Crossing Jura Start on July 20th, 2018

The atmosphere here will be very different from what we can experience in the Alps. Nevertheless, the outing that I suggest here will allow you to discover the typical landscapes of Jura Vaudois. We will follow the first ridge, which provides the most beautiful views, to reach, after three days, the small town of Romainmôtier. Along our journey, we will pass by the peaks of Crêt de la Neuve, Mont Tendre and Dent de Vaulion.

Day 1 From Saint-Cergue to Marchairuz

Departing from Saint-Cergue train station, we will first reach the ruins of the old charterhouse of Oujon. Surprisingly, this charterhouse was not destroyed during the revolution, but disappeared in the 16th century during the Reformation.

Further, we will reach a pretty point of view above the Chalet du Crot before following the small vales. We will reach the Crêt de la Neuve, a viewpoint onto Lake Geneva. It will still take a little effort to reach the Marchairuz.

(850m, 5h 30, shower, hotel)

Day 2 From Marchairuz to Le Pont

From the Col, we will follow the ridge to pass by Cunay. Further, our itinerary will follow the line to reach Mont Tendre, the highest peak of the Swiss Jura.

After Mont Tendre, we will first descend to the Petra Felix pass before reaching Le Pont.

(530m, 6h, shower, hotel)

Day 3 From Le Pont to Romainmôtier

During this last day, we will first climb to the top of the Dent de Vaulion. However, I will have you discover this summit by traveling less frequented places.

Descending, we will first reach Romainmôtier, whose Norman church is well known. From this village, we will take the train back at Croy station.

(640m, 5h30)
